Brown	Anthony G.	D	NR	No	Yes	NR	Yes	Yes	In 2011, I fought to pass the Dream Act and supported it all the way to the ballot box. In 2012, I worked to pass marriage equality and supported the Administration's directive to limit the use of ICE detainers and deportation to fighting the most violent offenders. I helped lead the effort to end the death penalty in Maryland in 2013. This year, I supported marijuana decriminalization and worked to pass the Fairness for All Marylanders Act to protect the rights of transgendered Marylanders.	We will ensure access to a world class education for all Marylanders by establishing universal Pre-K, increasing our investment in school construction to $500 million annually by 2018, and closing the achievement gap. We will extend state-backed student loans to Maryland Dreamers through the creation of the Dream Fund. We will also create safer, stronger communities by providing more opportunities to ex-offenders, passing the Trust Act and increasing our investments in affordable housing.

Mizeur	Heather	D	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Winning marriage equality was personal for me and my wife. Together with the LGBT caucus, I helped lobby undecided colleagues before the vote in the House of Delegates. After passage in the General Assembly, I spent six months working to secure victory on Question 6 at the ballot box. I was a proud death penalty repeal cosponsor in the House of Delegates. I co-authored an op-ed in The Baltimore Sun with Sister Helen Prejean—a national death penalty repeal advocate—to argue for its repeal.	I was proud to lead the charge in the House of Delegates to decriminalize marijuana, and together with my colleagues, we overcame status quo politics and got it done. As governor, I will introduce and pass executive legislation to legalize, regulate, and tax marijuana. One of my most important criminal justice reform goals is to end the cradle-to-prison pipeline. As governor, I will work to end youth incarceration and focus on community-based treatment and prevention.

Walsh	Cindy A.	D	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Citizens Oversight Maryland.com is a social and political justice organization I created after the 2008 economic crash to address the dismantling of our public justice system. I am a member of most labor and justice organizations in Baltimore and work nationally with other academics to make sure data being created is based in fact. I take civil liberties/civil rights violations to court and stop violations by making them public. We are having to start from scratch in Baltimore as all justice structures have been dismantled.	My campaign platform makes rebuilding the public justice system and accountability and oversight of Corporations and government the top priority. Reinstating Rule of Law, enforcing labor laws, enforcing equal opportunity and access laws for housing and education are all part of my platform.
